Burglary appeal

FOREST HILL, Pa. Police are appealing for information about a burglar who stole a car and jewelry from a home in Forest Hill.

The burglar, who is believed to be in his late 20s or early 30s, is described as being of average build, with dark hair and eyes, and wearing a dark jacket and jeans. He is believed to have stolen a silver car and a gold watch.

Police are asking for any information to be passed on to them.

Fire at city shop

CHICAGO, Ill. A fire broke out at a city-owned shop in Chicago on Monday night, causing damage to the building and the goods inside.

The fire started in a room used for storing equipment and spread to the main floor. Firefighters arrived within minutes and managed to contain the fire. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

Device donated

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. A device that can detect the presence of a person in a room has been donated to a charity in Philadelphia.

The device, which is called a "presence detector," can be used to detect the presence of a person in a room. It is being donated to a charity that helps people with disabilities.

Village event criticised for bear cubs sideshow

AN KNUXVILLE, Tenn. A show featuring bear cubs has been criticised for being a sideshow to the main event of a village festival.

The show, which is called "Bear Cubs Sideshow," is being held at the same time as the main event of the village festival. Critics say the show is a distraction from the main event.

The show features a variety of bear cubs, including a cub named "Bobby." The cubs are being shown to the public for the first time.

Ashbury show homes draw the crowds

The recent home demonstration at Ashbury Homes' Ashbury Showhome, Watlington, has proved popular with open-air visitors as they enjoyed a taste of what it would be like to live there.

The tour starts as they entered the large garden showhome grounds where cobble borders are already being well established.

Inside the home visitors were able to view a go of a number of finishing touches, including elegant lighting techniques in the beautifully appointed kitchen.

Each of the 10 rooms at Watlington, Ashbury is set in its own sub-terranean grounds with inspiring, stylish and elegant designs in the suburbs.

With stunning views, the houses are being constructed to match their own location, using local materials and traditional skills to build and give the property a unique feel but will fit perfectly with the modern houses in the area.

The inside boasts two, open-plan living spaces at between 1,925 and 2,700 square feet, created for those living in the individual and changing preferences of the twenty-first century, offering the best working or playing space for the family, guests or a business office.

Prices start at £650,000 and further details are available from Ashbury Homes on 01947 422278.

Connells to offer new lettings service

Local estate agency Connells in Henley-on-Thames is delighted to announce its new lettings service to support its business focus in the Henley-on-Thames area.

The already successful property sales agency will be introducing its services to local landlords and tenants by offering a new service on the back of increasing demand for rental accommodation in the Henley-on-Thames area.

Connells have appointed Lettings Manager, Chris Bolles, to spearhead the new service. Chris brings a wealth of experience and expertise to the lettings team and is looking forward to working with landlords and tenants in the area.

"The entire Connells team is very excited to be launching this new lettings service," said Chris.

"The lettings team only has a small number of properties in the area through our existing property sales team and mortgage division. The launch of lettings adds another string to our bow and we have already established the properties in the area which is a fantastic start."

The lettings market has continued to thrive despite the economic challenges in the sales market. As part of a vibrant network of sales and lettings offices, Connells will offer a market leading lettings service.

which is tailored to the needs of the customer, whether they are simply looking to match a tenant with a property or need their key to let property to be fully managed on their behalf.

"Connells is a national lettings network with local expertise in customer service from the branch team's experience and expertise in the local area but also third and fourth centralised management and support systems," Chris added.

If you have a property to let, or are currently looking for the rental accommodation, please contact Connells in Henley-on-Thames. Email: c.bolles@connells.co.uk

Big Feastival returns

THE: Celebrated musical music and food festival The Big Feastival gets underway tomorrow with a wide range of food and drink on offer for visitors.

The festival is jointly run by James Oliver and his band The Kooks and Alex Jones of the band The Kooks. The event has been running since 2011.

By Adam Ffrench
@adamffrench

When the sun is out, it's a joy to see the festival, whether from the festival, or just from the festival. The festival is a joy to see, whether from the festival, or just from the festival.

Setback and present: James Oliver and Alex Jones.

And a number of top chefs will also be showing off their culinary skills, including Levi Bloor (Baked Shovels), James Gable, and James Oliver. The festival is a joy to see, whether from the festival, or just from the festival.

Also added: The Big Feastival gets underway and better every year. I can't wait - it's going to be so full of surprises!

Also taking place of this year's festival is the exclusive Burger Bash, a pop-up burger festival where visitors can enjoy a burger while watching the band play live music.

James Oliver, author of the book 'My first festival' is also at the festival. My first festival is a book about the festival.

She said: 'I've been leading supper clubs for nearly 10 years at my home in Henley and it's changed my life. To take part of The Big Feastival is a real treat.'

Food writer James Oliver, who is leading the main event, said: 'The Big Feastival is one of my favourite events in Oxfordshire. It's a joy to see the festival, whether from the festival, or just from the festival.'

It should be the perfect festival which will be so wonderful. It's a joy to see the festival, whether from the festival, or just from the festival.

Also James and James Oliver lead The Big Feastival in Henley, the weekend.

Dreaming out loud

THE story of Barbie, Laura Vincent and Sue is the hit stage musical Dreamboats and Petticoats but here's given a sequel which means it's back in the Theatre from Monday.

Dreamboats and Petticoats is the sequel to the original 1941 when Betty and Laura first danced their big wig and Nipper and Sue had ended down into marriage.

But the rest of the show is a sequel to the first five years. Laura and Betty are now in the big wig and Nipper and Sue are now in the big wig.

It's a continuation of Dreamboats and Petticoats as you've got all the same characters there - and also Nipper, who plays Nipper in the original.

Barbie and Laura have had their names changed to Betty and Sue. Betty is now a singer and Sue is now a dancer. They are now in the big wig and Nipper and Sue are now in the big wig.

A wide variety of local acts are performed during the show.

WIN tickets to the London Homebuilding & Renovating and Home Improvement Show

In the property market regions, as evidenced by the UK's latest growing house share, many in London are looking for a combined event designed for both exhibitors and visitors. The new London Homebuilding & Renovating and Home Improvement Show will take place from the 1st to 2nd September at Olympia London. The exhibition will offer visitors the chance to benefit from a continuous range of products and recommendations from leading exhibitors, demonstrating the latest in design and technology, and the chance to meet with leading industry experts in a relaxed expert panel discussion.

Piers Taylor, senior housing editor, architect and co-presenter of BBC's series 'The House That I Bought' will be making his first appearance at the London expert panel to explore visitors with quality interior design and architectural recommendations to help homeowners make the most of their property. Charlie Linton, award-winning architectural designer and presenter of Home's 'Building the Future' will be making his first appearance at the London event and will also appear alongside other homebuilding and home improvement professionals including Michael Linton, editor in chief of the Homebuilding & Renovating Magazine.

Further free tickets for this year's event at the Olympia London in conjunction with the show will be available via the show's website. Tickets will be provided with helpful ideas on how to make the most of the show through the use of appealing interior schemes, full coverage and landscaping. The Ask the Architects area will provide a space for dialogue between certified RIBA architects and real-time questions about the design and construction process of their project. After a consultation with a member of the team, homeowners will have the chance to see their plans will be ready to be implemented by self-build contractors.

For attendees who require major works, changes and additions to their property, a meeting with planning professionals from 'Daily Trip' is a vital part of the event. The experts will be on hand to help visitors with the complex application process. Daily Trip will be working at the Planning Clinic for attendees to meet with real-time visitors to the show.

Come prepared with your plans and ideas and with a range of range of experts that can offer advice on how to make the most of the show. The show's website will also provide helpful ideas on how to make the most of the show through
